Home Savvi Connects Homeowners, Contractors Online

The Seattle Home Show is the place where Puget Sound-area homeowners and exhibitors gather twice a year. If you're thinking of building or remodeling, you were there last week to find contractors, retailers and designers... but what about the rest of the year?

Home Savvi is using technology to bring homeowners together with the information, products and services they need, online, 24/7.

In this 10-minute audio program we get a tour of the company's new web site from Villette Nolon, CEO and co-founder of Home Savvi.
